FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

2nd Annual Meeting, June 22-24, 2006 Loews Miami Beach Hotel, South Beach

The American Association of Heart Failure Nurses (AAHFN) 2nd Annual Program was a phenomenal success! With more than 570 attendees, representing nurses across the continuum of heart failure care, including advanced practice, acute care, outpatient, home health as well as administrators, clinical directors, researchers, educators, and students, this has become the nation's most anticipated annual meeting for nurses who care for people with heart failure.

From "Building a Heart Failure Disease Management Program" to "Basics and Advanced Practice Heart Failure Management" to the "How-to" sessions, there was something for everyone, along with the opportunity to earn more than 25 CEUs.

"It has been a wonderful experience watching the association grow over the past two years. This interest in AAHFN and attendance at the annual program represent the need for education and networking for heart failure nurses," says Robin Trupp, AAHFN President. "The Board and its committees strive to achieve AAHFN's vision of becoming the premier professional association for nurses who care for people with heart failure. Heart failure nurses everywhere now have a collective voice to be heard."

The 3rd Annual Program is scheduled for San Diego, June 28 – 30, 2007. Make plans now to attend this next program and to leave rejuvenated about caring for heart failure!
